USHUAIA – THE SOUTHERNMOST CITY OF THE WORLD

Ushuaia:

It is the capital city of the province of Tierra del Fuego, Antártida and the South Atlantic islands. This area at the edge of the Beagle Channel is the most southern city of the planet.

At the beginning of the twentieth century this district became famous when a prison was founded, prison that lodged some of the most dangerous criminals and delinquents of the age, until it closed its doors in 1947.

Nowadays, Ushuaia has a wide, modern and varied infrastructure in terms of hotel and services. During spring and summer there are multiple land and lacustrine tours and during winter its ski rinks are very crowded, having peaks that keep snow until well into the spring.

Besides Ushuaia has the port of deep waters closest to the Antarctica, and for this reason is used not only by tourism ships but by scientist ships.
